Severe Weather Expected for Shelby County

Storms with high winds and heavy rain will move into Shelby County about 8 o'clock tonight and continue through about 2 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The National Weather Service says tornados are also possible.

Keep a close eye on the weather through media broadcasts and weather service radios.

Personnel at the Shelby County Office of Preparedness will be in constant contact with the National Weather Service throughout the night.

For more information about weather preparations, go to the "Citizens' Preparedness Guide" at: www.staysafeshelby.us or call the Office of Preparedness at (901) 515-2525.
